That Has Robbed a Happy Home of Sanctity-Great Sympothy for

the Outraged Husband.

ISPECIAL TO THE APPRAL. JACKSON, TENN., November 3.—The JACKSON, 188N., November 3.

The great sensation in this city caused by John Newman shooting the Rev. G.

W. Hinkle, rector of St. Luke's Church, yesterday evening is still the topic of conversation throughout the The excitement was so great last evening that we could not give particulars in our last night's special. However, we send you too ight the facts how a happy home was ruined and broken up. Batween 3 and 4 o'clock broken up. Between 3 and 4 o'clock last Tuesday evening the people about the courthouse square were instantly thrown into a state of intense excitement by the appearance of Mr. John Newman, a well known citizen and freight conductor on the Illinois Central road, running scross the courtyard toward the Bright House, pistol in hand, with a determined look that showed he meant to avenge his wrongs at every hazard. He was sitting on the Confederate monument, on the lookout, it seems, for the Ray, G. W. Hinkle, seems, for the key. G. W. Hinkle, rector of St. Luke's Episcopal Church of this city, who, according to the confession of Mr. Newman's wife, but an hour or two before had invaded and destroyed the sanctity of his home, and all that was worth living for. On seeing Mr. Hinkle walking eastward on Ba timore street, south of the courthouse and toward the Bright House. house and toward the Bright House, he started in pursuit, but some one cried out to Mr. Hinkle to run, which, on looking up and seeing Mr. New-man, he did, turning down the alley near Gen. Compbell's office, and run-ning southward, with Mr. Newman in hot pursuit and firing from his re-volver three shots are of which took volver three shots, one of which took effect behind the right shoulder. Mr. Hinkle, however, succeeded in reach the jail, and rushing in, begged the protection of Mrs. Person, the Sheriff's wife. The crowd had lost all interest in the election for the time and was running about in a state of great excitement. Policeman Hinton being on the ground, demanded Mr. Newman's surrender, which in his terrible excitement he at first refused. but being assured that he was surrounded by friends he gave up the pistol, a thirty-eight caliber Smith & We son, and surrendered, giving bond before Justice B. F. H ward in the sum of $1000. He could have given $100,000 as easily. After listening the various rumors as to Mr. Hinkle's part in this terrible affair, we cull the following, which represents his state-asking that the money be left at the Women's Exchange. On Saturday morning she called at my residence and left a message that she would send me a note through the postoffice which was done. This last note said she would be in Memphis and her address No. 18 Burgess street. I paid no attention to these notes, thinking it all the result of a decased mind, as I had been guilty of no indiscretion whatever. Today I had been out vis-iting, and on my return from Mr. B. E. Gray's I was near the Bright House at me, I ran down the alley west of the Bright House and heard three shots fired, the second of which struck my right shoulder."

remained at the jail until Drs. Cook and Herron dressed my wound, which was pronounced a flesh wound and not dangerous. The whole affair is a mystery to me, as I had noticed no wrong in Mrs. Newman and regarded her as a good and true wife, and had been on good terms with Mr.

MES. NEWMAN'S CONFESSION. In a lengthy interview Wednesday with Mr. John Newman, the injured husband, whose home and happiness have thus been destroyed, and who talked to us with blinding tears and heart broken sobs, we gathered the following facts in regard to his and his late wife's part in the matter: My name is John B. Newman, and my wife's maiden name was Olivia War-field. We were married eleven years ago the 21st of October last, and have two little girls living, aged about 7 and 9 years. Heretofore my wife and I have had some trouble about her extravagant expenditure of money. I remonstrated with her time and again about it, and she promised me to be more prudent, and all our differences were healed, as I supposed. When, on my return from my regular trip lest Saturday, I found on my return from my regular trip lest Saturday, I found my wife and children gone, I ascertained that they had gone to Springfield, Mo., and started after them at once in the deepest trouble. As I reached that city and stepped off the cars I met my wife and children, ready to take the train for Kansas City where she expected to meet a cesses are feared. City, where she expected to meet a Sister of Charity, whom she knew, and have our children placed in a convent at St. Charles, Mo. I soon affected a reconciliation with her, as she said she had broken her promises in regard to going into debt and wasting money, and therefore made up her mind to get beyond the repreaches which she deserved, but that it was a mere aecident that she had gone to Springfield, and we returned home, arriving here at 6 o'clock am. Tuesday morning. After dinner that day my wife was talking over our affairs and trying to effect a perma nent reconciliation, as I loved my wife very dearly and sympathized with her, when she told me freely and of her own accord that the money matters was not all the trouble, that on last Wadnesday night she had heard the Rev. J. J. Porter preach at the First Baptist Church and had been so deeply convicted of her awful sin that it made her to mise able she had fled from home, and, upon my pressing her for a full confersion, she stated that Mr. Hinkle had thrown his arms around her and kissed her, making such advances as to secure her ruin in the spring of last year while entertain-lor, her friend being sick, and that the crime had been repeated four times. All the above statements were repeated and confes ed to in the presence of several witnesses at the house where she had gone with her children when their fa her had sent for them; when their fa her had sent for them; these if they faithfully use Sozonost and she further said that no blame every day, and captivate all by simply could be attached to Mr. Newman, as he had always been a good and fond teeth. husband to her were heard for squares around and were hear rending indeed. She finally refused to part with them and jumped in the carriage, going to Mr. D. W. Newman's, where the last interview was had, as above.

Soon afterward the final separation occurred, and she left on the 9:15 p.m. train of the Memphis and Ohio road, telling a gentleman present that she was going to Mobile one of Mr. Newman's brothers furnishing ter money and that she was going to try to live a good and pure life in the future. She is an intelligent, good looking woman, about 30 years of age, having been born in Maryland and educated in this city. She had been a newspaper contributor, and was married near this city. She was prominently con-

Mr. Hinkle is about 35 years old. He came here, as rector of St. Luke's, about three years since from Cleve-land, O., where, as the public remem-bers, certain grave charges were made against him of a similar character. He is a well educated and affable man, calculated to impress people that he is a perfect gentleman. He left the city early last night by priva e conveyance for Bells, on the Louisville and Nashville road, and thence to Nashville, it is said.

JACKSON, TENN. Dr. Frederick Howard Has Not

Resigned. [SPECIAL TO THE APPRAL.] JACKSON, TENN., November 3.—The report that the Central Baptist church had accepted the proffered resignation of the pastor, Dr. Frederick Howard, is incorrect. Feeling that more of his time and attention should be given to his paper, the True Baptist, he ten-dered his resignation of the pastorship. The church unanimously de-clined to accept it, but resolved that they would elect as assistant pastor any minister he might suggest. He suggested the Ray. A. J. Hall, a former minister of the First Baptist Church of this place, who was unanimously elected to fill Dr. Howard's place.

Naw York, Ostober 3.-When late last night it was made known at the beadquarters of the Central Labor Union that Henry George was de-feated, the crowd there assembled gave voice to expressions of disgust. Henry George came into the hall at 11 o'clock and mounting a table addressed his supporters, saying that he felt pronder than if he held in his hand official returns making him President of the United States. Their descripts to the Control of the United States. devotion to the great cause was shown and he felt certain that under a fair count of the ballot he would be the next Msyor of New York. "If the official returns do not give me that office," he said, "it is because of the money and intimidation used, and of the rumsheps, of State and National administrations, of an unscrupulous press, the unreasonable fear of the igpress, the unreasonable fear of the ignorant rich and the degradation of the miserable poor. What we sought we accomplished by bringing principle into politics," he went on to say, "and I congratulate you on the greatest of victories that we have won. Thank God, we have demonstrated the political power of labor. Never again will the priticians look upon the labor movement ticians look upon the labor movement with contempt. You men who have worked night and day without a penny know under what disadvantages this struggle has been made. You know what enthusiasm has enabled us to do.
